

To whom it may concern:

Rick Crowley, Arts Delivered Inc., has instructed multiple pottery workshops, ceramic and hand build classes, clay sessions and seasons of art themed summer camps at the Indian Trail Cultural Arts Center over the past few years. His programs have exceeded our standards and patrons are all treated in a professional and courteous manner.

Rick was one of our more energetic teachers who thrived on helping children and teams develop both skills and character. He applied a unique combination of teaching techniques that achieved positive outcomes from all that registered. We received positive feedback from students and parents and saw a high amount of return registration.

His hands-on experience and formal training made him a terrific choice for taking on the many challenges often found in teaching such a diverse group of individuals. It is clear that he takes pride in serving the local community and I would recommend him as an instructor of anything clay.

Please feel free to contact me for any additional information or questions.

Thank you,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'Jason Tryon', is written over the printed name.

Jason Tryon
Director, Indian Trail Parks and Rec
Town of Indian Trail
315 Matthews Indian Trail Rd
Indian Trail NC